

County Re-entry Task Forces are located across New York State

Task Forces are located in New York City and upstate counties and are designed to help individuals who are returning to their communities after release from state prison. Two state agencies - the Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) and Department of Corrections and Community Supervision (DOCCS) - collaborate to oversee these Task Forces.

Each Task Force works with DCJS, DOCCS, county and community agencies, and human service providers to help eligible individuals get programs and services that meet their needs when returning to the community.

The Task Force in your community may be able to help you:

- Find a job and/or a place to live.
- Obtain a non-driver's license or other ID.
- Receive help to change negative behavior.
- Reconnect with family and community.
- Find services to promote your growth and good behavior.

Re-entry Services are available in 20 counties

Re-entry case management services may help you meet Parole conditions while accessing other needed services.

Employment

You may receive help with writing resumes, developing interview skills, obtaining job counseling and finding a part-time or full-time job.

Housing

Obtain transitional, temporary or permanent housing.

Thinking for a Change

Task Forces have trained staff to help provide this program, which is designed to help change negative thinking and reduce your risk of committing a new crime.

Substance Abuse Treatment

Task Forces may work with alcohol and substance abuse service providers who may be able to help you get needed treatment.

Education/Training

Task Forces may place you in GED programs, adult education, vocational training or college prep courses.

Task Forces may be able to help:

- Moderate to high-risk Individuals assessed as Supervision Level 1, 2 or 3 by DOCCS.
- Women with high service needs.
- Sex offenders.
- Individuals who served their entire sentence and are released from prison without supervision. (Maximum Expiration)
- Teens and young adults on parole or recently released from an Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS) residential facility.
- Individuals with mental illness, severe medical issues, those with hearing, visual or physical impairments or those who are developmentally disabled.

For More Information:

Discuss your eligibility for assistance from the County Re-entry Task Force in your community with your assigned parole officer. If you will not be on parole supervision upon release, you may directly contact the Task Force in your community for assistance.
